Operating at 120 Per Cent of Mormal: Woolens 95

WY W. INDING BULLARD Vice: President Merchants National Bank: Treasurer National Associa-tion: Cotton Manufacturers, Copy-right, 1975, by The United Press As-lessiation.)

BOSTON, April 17 .- The textile manufacturing industry of this country is operating at a high rate of activity with prospects that production schedules will be maintained at about the present level for a few months at least. The cotton mills are running at about 113 per cent and the woolen and worsted mills at about 95 per cent of single shift capacity. Since the normal basis of operations is considerably below full expacity, these figures indicate that the textile millas a whole are running probably 120 per cent of normal, Large Volume for Fall The woolen and worsted mills are employed on fall goods for which buyers placed an unusually large volume of orders at the opening a few weeks ago. These orders were far in excess of the productive capacity of the mills and manufacturers were forced to scale them down drastically. Most manufacturers have all the forward business on their books that they care to handle under present conditions.

Most cotton manufacturers, likewise, have all the business that they require to cover their production during the period for which they are willing to sell. Northern mills are running on an average just about their southern mills are operating about 25 per cent overtime. The mills recently have been consuming cotton at a higher rate than ever before in the his tory of the industry.

Both Show High Cost The most disturbing factors in the situation are the high cost both of cotton and wool, and the threatened shortage of cotton. Some kinds of wool are 75 per cent higher, other 100 per cent higher and others 150 per cent higher than they were a year and a half ago. Cotton is nearly three times as high as at the low point of the recent depression. The recent advance in wages of 12 1-2 per cent, bringing the present wages of cotton mill workers to 33 per cent above pre-war and of woolen workers to 159 per cent above pre-war, adds further to the high cost of manufacturing and necessitates high prices for

Under such conditions, buyers of textile goods are cautious in regard. to entering into further commitments with the mills. They want to know more than they do at present as to how the consumer will react when retail prices of cloths and clothing are put on a parity with present mill costs and primary market selling prices. Uncertainty as to the size of the new cotton crop is another unsettling factor in the cotton trade, In other words while buyers are generally optimistic and manufacturers are well employed they both realize the difficulties and dangers of the present situation, and are avoiding the long commitments which ended so disastrously in 1920. This, perhaps, is one of the most reassuring phase of the present situation.

HARDING PLANS BIG RAIL MERGER

May Require U. S. Purchase fered all in this meeting." and Resale

WASHINGTON, April 17,--The administration's new railroad policy ing. will be based upon consolidation of the roads into a few great systems. This may require government purhase of the entire transportation system of the country at a cost of more than $20,000,000,000.

Such a purchase would, however, be | Screlay, oily temperary and the roads when consolidated would promptly be sold back to their present owners. Only One Way Out

President Harding believes consoldation offers the only way out of the untion's transportation problem, aside from government ownership, . To that he is inexorably opposed,

Mr. Harding today discussed the ailroad problem at length with Sentor Cumpins of Iowa, chairman of the senate interstate commerce com mattee. Cummins and the president agreed the consolidation plan must be ands the keynote of the administra tion policy and that therefore will be the basis on which Mr. Harding will present the question to the country on his western trip.

Speech Tour Subject Regarding, as he does, the railroad fronting his administration Mr. Harding intends to devote considerable of his spenking time on his trip to it, Indications are that when he is speaking to the people of the great manumiddle west they will be faced with a transportation crisis, growing outof the basiness and industrial revival hwed. civil or criminal, shall be reversed for and the approach of harvest. That will make it an ever livelier problem. There is a difference of oninion in the administration as to the method by which consolidation way be carried out. Cummins told Mr. Harding today that a consolidation plan such as the interstate commerce commission is now working our could be applied congressional legislation, Secstary of Commerce Hower, however asserted today in a discussion of the same unestion that such legislation would be unconstituional and that the only way the consolidation could be accepted would be for the government to buy the roads, consolidate them and

TOLL OF THE DEAD

Possession of money does not make for happiness. America has an association known as Save a Life League. Harry M. Warren of New York is its president. He reports that seventynine millionaires were among the 12,000 persons who committed snicide in 1922.

One-third of those who killed themselves were women, the oldest being a great grandmother being a hundred years old and the youngest a child of five, in New York City 839 persons killed themselves, Included in the 12,000, were wealthy, socialprominent and highly educated persons.

There were thirty-eight college students, fifty college proessors and school teachers, nineteen preachers and leaders of religious work, fifty-two judges and lawyers, eighty-four physicians, a hundred presidents and heads of large business concerns, and a number of bank presidents, one of whom tried ten times to die before succeeding. In 1919 the League reported 477 child suicides, In 1920 there were 707. In 1921 the number had increased to 855. In 1922 there were over 900 or nearly 3,000 in four years; average age of boys suicide is sixteen; girls, fifteen. Most girls use poison; most boys used the gun.

According to the bulletin issued by the League child marriage is another serious cause. In 1920 there were 1,600 boys and 12,-000 girls fifteen years of age in the United States, listed as married and nearly 500 of them were recorded as widowed or divorced. Married boys of sixteen numbered 3,222. Those of seventeen numbered 7,690. Those eighteen, 24,644. Girls who had married at sixteen, 41.610; at seventeen, 90,930; at eighteen, 186,645.

Doctor Thomas W. Salmon of New York is a prominent member of the League. He says that "most suicides are preventable: that we do not need investigators; that the facts are well known; that suicide cases fill our papers and usually without attracting the slightest serious attention."

But the question remains unanswered. Why did seventy-nine American millionaires go to a suicide's grave in a single year!

William Randolph Hearst has invaded Maryland and has become the owner of the Baltimore American and the Baltimore News. The American was established in 1773 and was the first newspaper published in Baltimore and is the oldest south of Philadelphia. It has had many famous editors in its time and was the only newspaper when the Civil War came that supportod the Union. It is said that the New York publisher paid $1, 200,000 for the newspapers. ## The Old Home Town

Mrs. Doleby always looks sad and people used to think that she had a great deal of trouble, but neighbors have learned that she is sad as a rebuke to Mr. Dooley for not earning more money. Mrs. Doleby had her ideas about how she ought to live and when she discovered that Mr. Doleby wasn't able to provide for, her according to those ideas, she decided not to get anything 'ex all out of life. Still, as she has considerable pride and she feels that it is necessary to explain why she married Mr. Doleby. Of course she doesn't come right out and say that she regrets having taken the step, but in his presence she frequently says that she married when she was real young. This, she think-, should be a sufficient hint to people. and, although Mr. Doleby is only two years her senior, he knows exactly what she means. He understands that she is letting it he known that he tobbed a cradle to get a wife and then failed to place her in the high station where she belongs,

Arrangements for a huge parade down the main thoroughfares of Beaumont, including a 40-piece band from the Magnolia Refinery, the attendance of ball players from the Exporters and the Sand Crabs, and numerous other things to be on "display" have been completed, according to information reaching here yesterday afternoon, and Beaumont is expecting Port Arthur fandom to turn out in legion.

The entire city of Beaumont will be closed tight on the occasion of the initial game, it is understood, and the park will in all probability be packed tight with spectators. Manager Tarleton and Skipper Edington rushed their proteges through a short hour of practice yesterday after noon before the heavy downpour of rain began in that section of the country, and it is understood they will be given a stronger dose of the same medicine today in preparation for "opening worked to perfect himself in that event. One day, in his senior year, however, he was "dar'd" by one of his temmnates to race against the varsity half-milers. And Reinke accepted. The result was that he left the rest of the field so far in the rear than the coach decided he had sadly misdirected Reinke's talent. Thereafter, Reinke continued to run inthehalf-nific. Not long after he entered the inter-cholastics at Lake Forest and came in second to Hattendorf, who is low also a member of the Mechigan team. Reinke subsequently won the
